Plaintiffs, by their attorney Daniel J. Aaron, P.C., for their Complaint allege, upon knowledge as to their own acts and upon information and belief as to the acts of others, as follows:

BACKGROUND

1. Plaintiffs are a well known and successful record company specializing in the music of Jamaica. In a series of agreements, the Plaintiffs paid Kemar McGregor, No Doubt Records, LLC, and Flava Records, LLC (collectively, the “Kemar Defendants”) advances approximating two hundred ninety thousand dollars in exchange for the exclusive worldwide master and publishing rights in a large number of Jamaican musical works. Unfortunately, the Kemar Defendants are fraudulent serial re-sellers of musical rights, who pocketed Plaintiffs’ money, and proceeded to re-sell the same rights to others, at least six of which have been identified. Simultaneously, the Kemar Defendants have sold, and continue to sell, the same works both physically and for digital download to the public for their own account via the internet.

2. Plaintiffs' have unfortunately learned from experience that the Kemar Defendants can and will say pretty much anything that they think will help them, regardless of the actual facts, or of past statements that the Kemar Defendants themselves have made. The Kemar Defendants have, at varying times, claimed that inconvenient agreements are invalid "forgeries" or never happened. The Kemar Defendants have quite publicly claimed that they have never received a single check or accounting from Plaintiffs, despite the fact that the Kemar Defendants have cashed many checks and have actually returned accountings to the Plaintiffs while at the same time demanding that they never receive any additional accountings in the future. The Kemar Defendants have even ineffectively purported to terminate the very agreements whose existence they deny.

3. In short, the Kemar Defendants have created a legal mess for Plaintiffs by repeatedly obtaining new advances from third parties who are often all too willing to ignore the rights of Plaintiffs. When the Plaintiffs wanted to speak privately in order to resolve the conflicting claims that the Kemar Defendants created, the Kemar Defendants chose to interpret Plaintiffs' willingness to resolve matters as an admission that Plaintiffs had no rights at all. The Kemar Defendants surreptitiously taped a conversation and used an excerpt out of context as part of an ongoing public internet smear campaign against Plaintiffs. In that campaign, they have denied that the Kemar Defendants ever had agreements with Plaintiffs, that the Kemar Defendants ever received checks from Plaintiffs, or that the Kemar Defendants ever received accountings from Plaintiffs. They prominently claim that they own all rights in and to the subject music and accuse Plaintiffs of stealing “their” music.

4. The Plaintiffs have finally had enough. By this lawsuit, they intend to enforce their rights.
